

Dear Pastor,

During 2010, it will be my privilege to serve with you as your evangelist. I am excited about the potential for real revival and evangelism in your church. I join you in praying that the Lord will bless the meetings in a special way and I look forward to laboring with you and your people.

Thank you for taking time to read this packet carefully. In almost fifteen years of evangelism and in listening to, and learning from other evangelists and pastors with even more experience, I have gleaned numerous ideas that I trust will be helpful in planning your meeting. I offer these suggestions in hopes that they will be beneficial before, during, and for some time after the meeting.

Thorough preparation is the key to any successful meeting. Only the Holy Spirit can send genuine revival, but it is our responsibility to be ready for Him to move in a mighty way. I am looking forward to serving the Lord with you soon. Until then, may the Lord continue to bless you, your family, and your ministry.

Crucified with Christ,
